Career Point Creating a successful future together!

From 18 to 21 September the international rail industry will be gathered in Berlin at the leading trade fair for transport technology, an event which provides young professionals from the railway technology and public transport sector with an ideal career platform. InnoTrans gives you an opportunity to make direct contact with the industry and with the Career Point Mark and Career Point Pavilion the possibility to focus your inquiries.

The circular Career Point Mark acts as a beacon and signpost and can be found in the InnoTrans Guide, the Virtual Market Place® and on the stands at the fair. Companies and associations together with their experts at the fair will provide job seekers with in-depth information on youth development, careers and getting started in the rail industry. InnoTrans 2012 offers you an outstanding opportunity to make your first personal contact with company representatives and obtain quality individual career advice.

For those planning their careers the main meeting place is the Career Point Pavilion, where the personnel managers of major companies and associations will be on hand to give advice. These companies will also provide information on careers at lectures and presentations at the Career Point Forum. The Career Point Pavilion is the ideal place for holding in-depth meetings, obtaining valuable tips and detailed information on planning a career.

The global job market Tickets

Something else that InnoTrans 2012 offers is an immediate overview of the global job market. The Jobwall at InnoTrans and on the web in the Virtual Market Place® (VMP) gives young people planning their careers a quick overview of the latest job offers in the rail industry around the world.

At the fair and online at www.virtualmarket.innotrans.com the companies exhibiting at InnoTrans keep qualified young people informed about their latest job vacancies, with the number of offers rising as September's fair dates draw ever closer.

Tickets

Groups of seven people or more can purchase day tickets at the reduced rate of eight euros per student/trainee. Holders of a ticket may use public transport free of charge in the greater Berlin area on the day of their visit to the fair. Application forms are available online at www.innotrans.com under the menu item "Career Point".

You will not be hungry at InnoTrans 2012! On presentation of a valid student/trainee ID you can enjoy an InnoTrans hot dog at the Career Point Pavilion for free.
