

It is our pleasure to invite you to join the series of online workshops English for Specific Purposes (ESP) – a Bridge Between the Classroom and the Workplace, organized in collaboration between the Faculty of Technical Sciences, University of Novi Sad, and the US Embassy, Belgrade. Ten online workshops will be held biweekly from October 26, 2020, to April 26, 2021, and dedicated to language skills necessary to senior students while searching for their future job. Each workshop will focus on one of the following topics: ESP globally, learning new vocabulary, writing in ESP, speaking confidently, improving reading skills, culture in business, how to avoid grammar mistakes. There will be two workshops dedicated entirely to practical tasks.

All students are welcomed, though the priority will be given to final-year students of technical disciplines with solid knowledge in the English language (B1 level and above). The number of participants is limited, so do not wait for too long to apply.

The program will be held by prof. Vesna Bogdanović, Ph.D., an associate professor in English for Specific Purposes, and Dragana Gak, Ph.D., a senior lecturer in English for Specific Purposes, from the Faculty of Technical Sciences. Workshops will be visited by guest lecturers from the US university.

All workshops will be held online, using Zoom and Canvas, and the official language will be English.

Workshops are free-of-charge.

If you are interested and would like to apply, please fill in the following Google survey form available at
